

Magic is a relatively new concept to Novus, first discovered by the brilliant Zondora. Davra has been a pupil in the Academy of the Arcane in Zondara's Cloud City. She has excelled far beyond anyone else in the school, discovering ways to manipulate magic far beyond the lessons provided by Zondora's disciples.

Davra chose to leave her studies after hearing of the wild creatures trying to ravage the people of her homeland in the rain-forested peninsula of Wkawn.

Jue R'gon is a stepping stone for her true desire, to take down the legendary dragon that entered the world, Monsigneus. It will take a strong will, and a strong mind, to accomplish this.
