

While living a secluded life in the heart of the Dark Forest of Veyland, Beric discovered he had ways to control the magical energies now in Novus and coalesce them into animal forms.

He is traveling the world to find items and develop his skills to help battle against the deceptive Cystos, a massive scorpion spider that is ruining the ecology of the forest.

Beric may be the only Dwarf left on Novus, having survived the genocide of the Elves and Dwarves by the Human race centuries ago. He must be very cautious in the cities of Novus, for if he is noticed and captured he will most likely be imprisoned, or even put to death.